Shab was outside a certain bear's room, but not any normal bear, no this bear was known as Shaff and he had a crush on him ever since the day they met. Shaff could hear the footsteps of the nervous bunny, but wasn't acknowledging them in any way, shape or form. He knew that if it was something important, that the rabbit would ask him if he needed it. The rabbit had made the bear his favorite meal, potatoes with gravy and noodles, said meal was cooked with plenty of salt. Shab went to knock on the door multiple times, but just couldn't do it. '_This was a mistake,_' he thought, '_Why would he want me anyway?_' The rabbit was about to set down the food in front of the purple bear's door and walk away, when suddenly the door opened revealing said bear. "Are you going to tell me, or am I going to have to ask?" Shaff said, he then noticed the tray of food in the rabbit's paws, "Why do you have food?" The rabbit blushed, "This is your dinner...I made it because I know it's your favorite foods." "Oh," he replied, taking the tray, "thank you Shab, is that all that's on your mind?" The rabbit was debating whether or not to tell him, well it's now...or never, "No there's something elseâ€¦" Shaff nodded, "I thought there might be, please come in."

The bear and rabbit were sitting on Shaff's bed, he put the tray of food on his dresser, and was waiting patiently for the nervous rabbit to start speaking. "So," Shaff began, "what do you need to tell me?" The rabbit was just twiddling with his fingers when the bear used magic to make him spill the beans, "I have a crush on you." The bear just sat there, showing no emotion whatsoever, "Is that so?" He said, crossing his arms. The rabbit blushed, "Yesâ€¦" Shab was about to say something else when the unthinkable happenedâ€¦...Shaff started to kiss him. After a second he broke it and said, "I have a crush on you too." The rabbit blushed again, "Thank youâ€¦" The bear grinned, and began kissing Shab again, but this time much more intimately.

The rabbit instantly kissed back, hoping this wasn't just a dream. As the bear deepened the kiss, they both began laying down on the bed, the rabbit, surprisingly wanted _more._ Shab then pulled the bear on top of him, where they began to have a full on makeout session. The rabbit was pleased as the bear's tongue was massaging his, he didn't even try to get dominance over the bear. Shaff couldn't remember the last time he had done something like this, sure many people adored him but he just wasn't able to find someone that cared about him as Shab did. Shab was at the point where he was moaning through the kiss, the bear smirked in the kiss. Shaff then felt something in his nether regions, both he and the rabbit were getting hard. The rabbit then felt something poke him in the butt.

They broke the kiss for a second, a string of spit still connecting their mouths. They just started at each other for a second before both of them got mischievous grins. The rabbit spoke up, "How bout we take this a step further? After all us rabbits are best at it.~" Something unexpected happened, the bear blushed, "Why not my fuzzy bunny." Shaff reached down, and began to take off his and Shab's pants, "Just tell me if you need me to slow down or stop." The bunny nodded as he felt his pants slide off of his legs, revealing his twitching member. Shaff smiled, taking off his own pants, and planted another kiss on the rabbit's forehead, "Are you ready?" Shab nodded, "If you are." "Alright, get ready." Slowly, Shaff began to insert himself into the rabbit's hole, moaning in pleasure as he felt his warm insides. Shab however wasn't taking so nicely it hurt...badly. The bear noticed his partner's discomfort and began to pull out, but the rabbit stopped him, "Please, I can take it." Shab smiled, "Alright, just tell me if it becomes too much."

About two months after that night, the two shadows had been dating as much as they possibly could. They even spent every waking moment (and even sleeping moments), with each other just doing whatever they felt like. Currently they were cuddling on the sofa watching tv, even though they weren't paying attention to the show and just wanted to be with each other. But Shab knew something the bear did not, that their night of passion a few months ago had some interesting results. Shab had been sick for the past few months, he knew why and he had to tell his lover sooner or later. He thought about it even as they were cuddling and just the thought of how Shaff would react made his heart race. The bear noticed his uneasiness though, "Is something wrong love? You haven't acted like this since the night you told me about your crush." Shab was twiddling with his fingers, "Look at my swollen stomach, then think back to 2 months ago." Shaff looked down at his stomach, and he had to admit that the rabbit had been gaining weight recently, but he just thought it was because they were always cuddling instead of working out. Then it hit the bear like a truck, "Shab are youâ€|" He trailed off, nervous about the answer he would receive but he already knew what he was implying. Shab smiled, "Happy birthday." (A/N it's Shaff's birthday)

Shaff just stared at him in shock, which caused the rabbit to feel even more uneasy. Shab knew he would freak out, he knew that he would leave him, how could he be so stupid. Suddenly, he was ripped away from his thoughts when Shaff began to kiss him. The rabbit broke the kiss after a few moments and said, "You're not mad?" Shaff was smiling, tears in his eyes, "How could I be mad? This is the best birthday present anyone has ever given me." Shab smiled and cuddled closer to the bear, not wanting the moment to end.
